LAKE HARRIET YACHT CLUB 1978

OVER BRIGHT
SUMMER SKIES

Quick, Hoist the jib
and cast us off, my son.
The racing fleet maneuvers
for the gun,
And we shall stand offshore
to give them leeway-- Eventually they'll crowd us from the seaway.
The handsomest and yet
profanest sport
Summons bright argosies
from every port,
A dazzling zodiac
of racing types,
Stars, Comets, Lightnings, Meteors -- and Snipes, White on the sunlit blue,
and whiter still Against the shoreline
of a shadowed hill, Mechanical, precise,
well disciplined,
Yet, like ourselves,
dependent on the wind.

Lord of the wind-torn
or the windless sail,
To whom Odysseus
prayed without avail, Mad Aeolus!
But how much madder grown Since wather bureaus claimed you as their own.
The squalls they are too haughty to announce Swirl east with unpremeditated pounce
And rip the spinnaker's
ballooning bubble, Splinter the heaven-reaching spars to stubble,
Only to add
an overdose of balm
And leave all drifting
on an oily calm.
Meanwhile, our able sloop
pursues her way,
Swift without haste,
and calm, without delay.

Pleased with four knots,
incredulous of five,
The cruising sailor
does at least arrive,
And somewhere else than where he started from Breathes deep quiescence
of the night to come,
Then hears but echoes
underneath the stars
Of disputations
in the yacht-club bars,
The race re-raced
with expletives of wrath Like flotsam
of the tempest's aftermath.
At last no light
is showing but his own,
On shore one voice dies out in monotone,
And, free from
disappointment or success,
He slips the mooring
of his consciousness.

--Robert Hillier

1978 Season

This year's annual is dedicated to the magical, mystical sport of sailing, and the fine folk of the Lake Harriet Yacht Club. With the season over the remembrances of doldrums, excessive winds, rain, cold, blisters, aching backs, unpredictable squalls, lousy tempers, crew overboard, etc. begin to pall -- as the highlights of the season become etched in our minds.

Remember winning 3 in a row -- or even one? How about the time you gambled and then actually caught the wind, and left the fleet behind? How about the day you were on star-board tack at the windward buoy, the sun was out and the wind was 10 miles an hour, with gusts to 15? And there was the time you were out ahead and then lost the wind, and got all tensed up as you heard the flap, flap, flap of the fleet catching up -- and then you caught the wind again!

And then it's off to picnics and parties and getting to know each other as people who don't scream and swear and holler ALL the time, and finding out that the shore watchers are neat people too. Yes, it's a GREAT sport and a GREAT club on and off the water. Amen to a fantastic season in '78 ... see you next year for more of the same!
