1984

1984 SEASON

Reflecting on the past 1984 sailing season, each of us can usually recall some flashes of brilliance as well as a few moments of frustration.

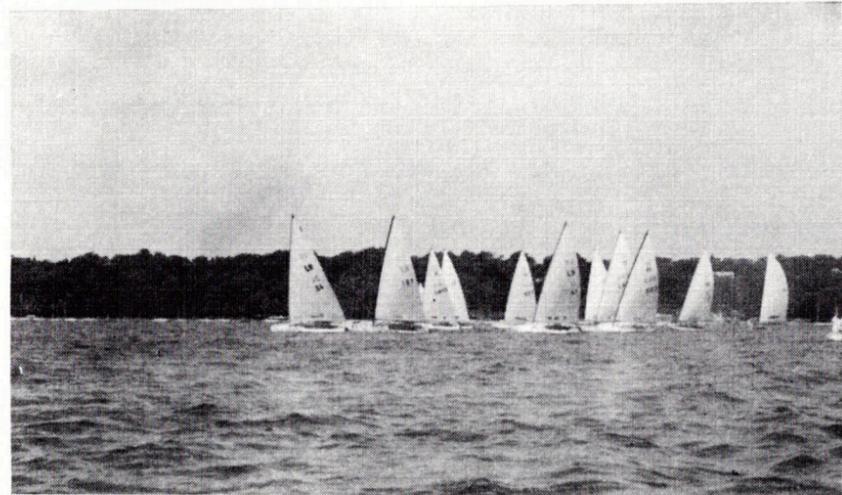

But more important than our individual achievements we can reflect upon the people, events and circumstances that made this past season memorable.

Our fleet membership increased for the first time in several years. Some members of our fleet distinguished themselves at regattas. The sailing school was a success. Our club is financially sound and our dues structure still represents a tremendous bargain. And most important of all, our members are a superb bunch of people who can make spending a day, or evening, at the lake just plain fun - and that is what it is really all about.

Sailing, when put in the proper perspective, is not expensive and it brings you through the winter doldrums as you read about new tactics and discuss the latest equipment with your fellow sailors. Moreover, sailing gives a desire for the coming of each new season, with the renewal of old friendships.

As we look forward to next season, realizing that no one is ever so good that he can not be beaten or ever so poor that he doesn't have a chance, may everyone have a fair breeze and a strong finish.
