BARBOUR/LADOUCEUR DESIGN GROUP DESIGN

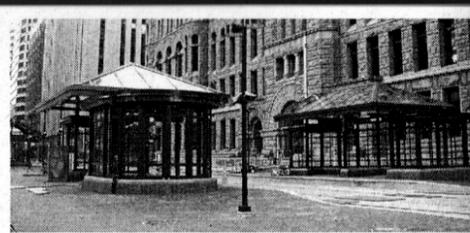

BARBOUR/LADOUCEUR DESIGN GROUP is a multidisciplinary design firm with a focus on public projects, providing services in architecture, landscape architecture, interior design, community planning, civil engineering, exhibit design, graphic design, furniture design, and visioning.

Barbour/LaDouceur has enjoyed twelve years of collaborative design, spanning a broad range of projects. We believe the stories and heritage of a community are the basis for design. Each project is born out of the ideas, dreams and stories of the community it serves. The work we create is not our signature, it's theirs.

Come visit us in downtown Minneapolis. Let us tell your story.

Lake Harriet Yacht Club

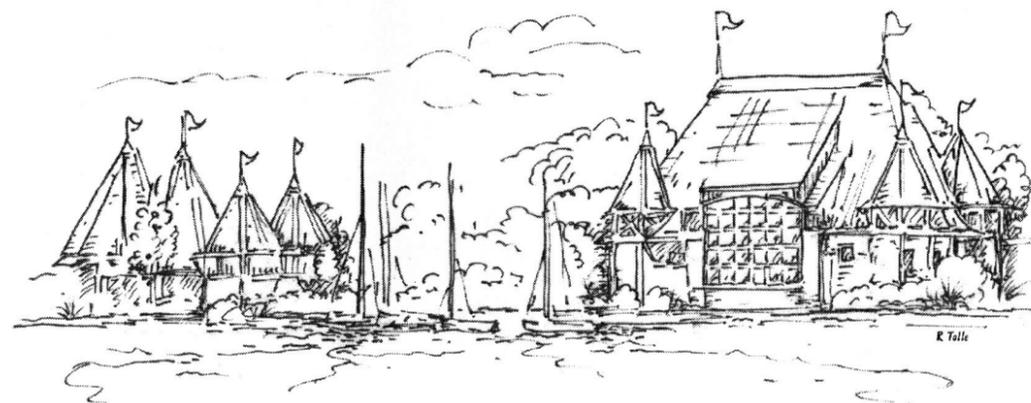

My father sometimes talks about Lake Harriet Yacht Club's role in shaping the aesthetic appeal of Minneapolis. All the people who walk, run, bike, and picnic around our lake love seeing the sailboat races. We enhance the experience of living here. Thank you all for taking part in this considerable task.

How does sailing shape your own experiences off the lake? I just presented a seminar entitled Teaching Like a Sailor—how sailboat racing informs my teaching life. Using the boat and wind as metaphors for the classroom and students, it was a unique way to look at preparation, practice, positive attitude, and tactics. Everyone responded strongly to the part about staying in the breeze on the lifted tack. What do you know?

As we enter the winter months, I am going to try something new, which is to commit my Wednesday evenings, Saturday afternoons, and Sunday mornings to painting. We all make the time for sailing three times a week during the summer, and it is exciting to envision using this same time to do something equally important. Consider the option! So . . . cook a slow soup, read the new 2005-2008 rule book, go for an ice skate down at the lake, and enjoy this yearbook. Major kudos go to Rebecca Tolle for putting it together.

Stay in the breeze,

Bill Colburn, Commodore
